Episcopal Insights

Dear Friends,

Earlier in the year, the Bishop of Oxford published on his blog an article about the growing emotional and psychological pressures faced by our younger generations. Blog readers were encouraged to share the article more widely, so I have reproduced an edited version for you below.*

With my best wishes and prayers, as ever, Revd. Ken

There is a storm inside the minds of our young people. Like the storms on Galilee, it is unpredictable and life threatening. Like the storms on Galilee, it is a symbol of the forces of chaos in our lives which threaten to overwhelm us. One in four girls in this country aged 14 self-harm in some way. The most common symptom is to cut themselves and hide the damage. The self-harm is a way of coping with the pressure they feel, with the storm within. For boys, the symptoms are different but the storms are the same.

Where do these inner storms come from? There is a fear for the future, certainly. Today's young people understand the massive problems which will face the world in their lifetime, particularly the reality of disastrous climate change. There is no way you can cut yourself off from news 24 hours a day. Every disaster in the world is brought to your device within hours of it happening.

At the beginning of the Bible, we find the beautiful story of creation. God creates by bringing order out of chaos, by setting boundaries, by pushing back the waters, by allowing the earth to emerge, by dividing day from night and dry land from sea, by naming and giving meaning to creation. The forces of chaos are unleashed when the boundaries are taken down. A young person today is growing up without boundaries, with very few rules, with very few inner resources to hold back the forces of chaos. There are very few boundaries now of conduct and behaviour and gender.

Taking down some of the boundaries of the past, of course, is good. But if we take down too many, the storms rise within us, not least the storm of the perpetual Fear of Missing Out (FOMO), which is such a feature of young people's lives. And we have taken down other boundaries as well. Because of technology, we have taken down the boundaries of personal space and privacy. We are connected 24 hours a day. Our most personal information is harvested and shared for commercial interest. Nothing is hidden. There are no private spaces. There is no place beyond the reach of cruelty or unkindness. No sanctuary. No backstage area where I can take off the mask and be myself. How can I find out who I am if there are no private spaces? How can I grow and change and learn if every mistake seems to be exposed to public gaze and retained on servers on the other side of the world?

The Harvard economist, Shoshanna Zuboff, believes the world is witnessing a new and harmful economic order which she names Surveillance Capitalism: the deliberate harvesting of personal data to predict and influence human behaviour and generate enormous profits and power. The effects of Surveillance Capitalism are felt all across society but particularly on the young, the first generation of digital natives. Zuboff chillingly calls the first generation of digital natives the canaries in the coal mine. We are allowing our children and grandchildren to be the subject of a vast social and economic experiment: the strip mining of their personal lives for commercial gain. What will we offer this generation as a counterweight, as a way to fight back against this desecration of their inmost selves?

[There is a] massive need in the children and young people growing up today for safe spaces, for sanctuary, for contemplation, for love, for purpose and acceptance and identity - all of which we believe are found in Jesus Christ.

A letter from the Chair

Hello

I am delighted to have been asked to chair the Appleton and Eaton Gardening Club.

As I (sadly) don't live in Appleton, I would like to take a more direct approach at finding out what both existing members of this thriving club and those in the village who have not joined might like to see the club do and I would like as much feedback as possible please.

We currently go "quiet" during the summer, would anyone be interested in re-establishing some national (such as RHS Wisley) and local garden visits? We can use the new memorial minibus, so only need a maximum of 15 to fill it!

Is there any interest for an additional service to more novice gardeners, possibly families, with some practical "how to" sessions, maybe a family "community" allotment or garden space?

Perhaps broaden the appeal with more environmental, wildlife, associated craft sessions, floristry etc.?

These are just a few ideas to be added to what we already do, not to replace it, so any other ideas very welcome.

Thank you
Robert Longstaff

Thank you from the Barratts

A big thank you to all who came and supported both Aimee's concert at South Lawn and the Opera in the Garden concert in June.

Aimee and her friends raised £580 for The Abingdon Bridge, and we raised just over £1500 for RABI and £440 for Headway from the Opera in the Garden on a beautiful summer's evening by the river.

Thanks also to Richard and Felicity Dick and Chris and John McDonnell for hosting these concerts.

It is great getting customer feedback!

Recent visitors to our shop wrote:

'We just wanted to say how impressed we were this morning when we popped into the shop for a coffee while waiting for a job to be done at Whites. There was so much to take in - the place was buzzing with comings and goings, chatter, deliveries of fresh vegetables (no packaging!). We enjoyed delicious pain au raisin and flapjack with our coffee and hot chocolate. The shop seemed to have everything - information about local events - post office - recycling just outside the door etc. Well done everyone - you deserve to flourish!'

Rebecca, a regular customer, left the following comment:

'A great selection of items for sale and great steps towards being environmentally friendly.'

Lesley, a close neighbour to the shop said:
'I always forget something and the shop always has it!'

Spanish Wines

Appleton residents Andy & Ali McLeod own vineyards in the Terra Alta region of Catalonia

(about 100 miles west south west of Barcelona) and are very keen that Appletonians should have the opportunity to join in their passion for the wines of the area. Later in the year there will be a wine tasting but why wait until then?

Come now to the Shop and buy a bottle of Llumí Negre, Blanc or Rosat (that's Red, White or Rosé to you!)

All three wines are listed at £9.99.

When buying, ask for a copy of the Alimara leaflet with your purchase so that you can learn all about the winery and the wines.

We haven't tasted them yet (we've taken Ali's word for it)

So, as with all new products, we will be keen to receive feedback from all local aficionados. Salud!

Join our Volunteers

Why not come along and spend a couple of hours with one of the other volunteers to see where you could help.

We currently need more volunteer help with the following:

- During the summer months- people to join the bank of volunteers willing to help out when a regular volunteer is away. If you would like to know more about volunteering, please contact the shop (863191) or email: appletonshop@gmail.com

Remember while you shop to give to the Community Emergency Food Bank Place your donation of dry groceries and /or toiletries in the plastic boxes below the Post Office counter, opposite the cards. Your gifts are collected regularly and sent to the local food bank for those in urgent need.

Winning ways at Appleton School!

The Ova Energy Woman's cycling tour inspired children across Oxfordshire to cycle safely, get healthy and be creative. We are very proud that Alexa, in year 5, was chosen to have the honour of starting the race... waving her very own flag because she won this year's design competition. Alexa's design featured a cloaked cyclist against a multi-coloured background.

Alexa and her friends were very excited to be interviewed by reporters from local news and Alexa described the inspiration for her design: "I wanted my cyclist to be going fast. I found it challenging to draw the cyclist pedalling and came up with a cyclist in flying motion. It ended up looking like she has a cloak. Like she is whizzing by. I love it. I used bright colours because the race is very exciting for me and my school friends."

Freya, also in year 5, is another budding designer winning a 'create a character' competition.

The prize was for her class to go and see an ICC World cup Cricket match (Pakistan v Sri-Lanka) at the Bristol County Cricket Ground. Sadly, the British weather let us down and play was rained off. This didn't spoil our celebrations as we held indoor cricket matches in school. Elliot, a year 2 pupil, won another competition. This time set by Oxfordshire United football team, to design a mask for the club mascot. The whole school are very excited that part of Elliot's prize is a football day at Appleton school. This includes a visit from Ollie the Ox and football taster sessions led by Oxford United community coaches for every class.

Every child in the school also took a part in the Primary Engineering Leaders Award by designing a new invention to solve a problem. Many children received commendations for their work. However brothers Fergus in year 2 and Monty in year 5, had their work displayed in a public exhibition at the University of Southampton.

We are very proud of the effort and creativity our pupils put in to everything they do.

A great way to finish the year!

APPLETON 250 CLUB

The results of the May prize draw are:-

Anna Yalci	175	£25
Bernard Randall	138	£25
Roger Carter	88	£10
Corrine Richards	54	£10
Maria Davies	160	£10
David Hine	65	£10
Leslie Lowe	2	£10

We are now at the end of our financial year and the committee has decided that in future the prize fund will be divided as follows:- 1 x £50, 2 x £20, 1 x £10

We will soon be collecting annual subs and would welcome new members to our fund-raising charity. We support village organisations such as the Village Hall and the Sportsfield. This year donations have also been given to Scouts, Jubilee Park, OX13 and Evergreens to help with special events.

If you want to know more, please feel free to contact the Clerk.

Doctor's Surgery

The Parish Council wrote to Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group and has received a letter back. The letter states, " There is increasing pressure on General Practice with the sustainability of smaller practices and branch surgeries becoming more and more challenging. As such, difficult decisions do sometimes need to be made to continue to provide safe and high quality care to patients. Given the small number of appointments provided at Appleton and the estate / lone working challenges, Malthouse took the difficult decision to close the Appleton Branch. "

The letter then goes on to comment on the way the process was handled. " Whilst we are supportive of the decision taken by Malthouse Surgery having reviewed this, we are sorry that the parish council wasn't directly consulted. We will discuss this with the surgery and endeavour to do this going forward."

Neighbourhood Plan

The Pre-Submission Consultation phase of the Neighbourhood Plan has concluded. The Steering Group would like to thank all of those who responded to the consultation. The Steering Group is in the process of reviewing all of the comments in preparation for the next phase of the Plan. We will continue to keep you informed about the process and next steps for the Plan.

Witches

There was an enormous fear of witches and the occult in the 1600s.

In those times witches and evil spirits abounded and vied to enter your home. In rich homes the bedrooms would have servants dedicated to keeping the beds safe. No one wanted to sleep in a bed that had a spell cast upon it.

Spirits entered homes via doorways, windows and chimneys. These portals were protected by marks to deter the aliens. Marks such as engravings, criss-cross scratches, circles and wiggly lines. They are known as witch's marks – also apopotraic marks. Most homes dating back to the 1600s will bear such marks.

Plants, such as rowan or mistletoe or any special artefact were also used.

In Yew Tree Cottage there is an elaborate witch's mark. It is on a door that must have been an outside door in the past. The mark has been made with a sharp carpenter's compass. A circle containing "petals" - almost four inches across. There are 12 "petals" – possibly representing the 12 disciples of Jesus. The dwelling has many simpler marks on doorframes and fireplaces.

But witchcraft and the occult haven't gone away. On Halloween's night, in 1963, Appleton's Churchyard was desecrated; and an attempt was made to set fire to the Church.

There have been six Witchcraft Acts since the 1500s – the last morphing into the Fraudulent Mediums Act that was only repealed in 2008.
