BRING YOUR FRIENDLY PET ALONG TO THE SERVICE....
CUDDLY TOY ANIMALS ALSO WELCOME!

Dear Friends,

During a recent assembly at Appleton Primary School, an unexpected and rather touching incident occurred. Seeking to address the topic of justice and fairness, I asked for two volunteers - one boy, one girl - to shine my rather dusty shoes. Willing hands shot up immediately, not least (I suspect) because I had offered to pay for the service. The chosen pupils both approached the task with enthusiasm and did an equally good job, and having asked them to sit down next to each other at the front of the hall, I duly handed them their wages: 40p to the girl, and 10p to the boy. As I had hoped, a general sense of disgruntlement rippled through the rows of pupils: how could that be fair?! When I explained that the female pupil had received more money because she was a girl; and that I had paid the male pupil less money simply because he was a boy, the discontent naturally increased. Point made – here endeth the lesson etc. Except that...

...while I was still talking to the rest of the school, the young girl was spotted (by an observant member of staff) quietly offering her hard-done-by co-worker a share of her good fortune. Clearly, her sense of fairness really did run deep, to the extent that she was personally prepared to make a sacrifice for the sake of justice. On our better days, and in our own contexts, many of us are no doubt capable of acting in similar fashion: there is deep down in all of us an in-built (dare I say, God-given?) desire for fairness. Whether it's the principle that employees should receive "equal pay for equal work" regardless of gender or ethnicity etc.; or that serious wrongdoing should be punished – after all, none of us wants to see perpetrators of heinous crimes walk free from court, or bullies (at school or in the workplace) get away with their behaviour; assuming we are thinking straight, we all want justice to be done, and are sometimes even prepared to pursue it at our own expense.

The problem is, of course, that we don't always think (or act) straight. Everyone falls short of consistency in their thoughts and actions, and we all have a tendency to let selfish desires run riot - not only at the expense of "justice" as a concept, but at the expense of real people too. The great news at the heart of Christianity, of course, is that the unfairness and injustices to which we have personally succumbed can all be forgiven through the (humanly-speaking) unjust punishment of an innocent man, whose self-sacrificial death 2000 years ago demonstrated not only God's perfect justice but also his infinite love.

With my best wishes and prayers,
Rev. Ken

Appleton Society of Change Ringers

Recruits: Appleton ringers are looking for new recruits to help ring our church bells. The bells have sounded over the village since 1818, when the first 6 bells were given by Robert Southby and we no longer have enough ringers to ring all 10 bells. Most people have the ability to become a good ringer. Great physical strength is not required and people of all ages from 10 upwards are welcome. Perhaps you used to ring and would consider taking it up again? If you think you might be a little rusty, don't worry! You'll be surprised at just how quickly and easily you can pick up ringing again. If you would like to find out about learning to ring then come and see us in the tower between 7.45 pm and 9.00 pm on a Friday evening or contact us by email at appleton.bells@gmail.com or phone Michele Winter on 01865 864289.

We ring at 9.30 am for the 10.00 am service on the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th Sundays of the month and from 5.30 pm for the 6.00 pm Evensong service on the 1st and 3rd Sundays. Practice night is Friday from 7.30 pm until 9.00 pm and visitors are always welcome then and on Sundays. We try to keep the Church calendar updated at <http://www.stlaurenceappleton.org> so that you can check, if in the unlikely event, practice night has been cancelled at short notice.

Future Attempted Peals

Remembrance Peal: 10.00 am to 1 pm approx. on Saturday 11th November – in memory of the fallen.

Where peals are on Saturday mornings there will be no practice at Appleton on the preceding Friday evening.

Thank you.....

The wind dropped slightly and the sun appeared occasionally to shine on ten of Appleton's smaller back gardens which brought over a hundred and sixty visitors out to stroll around the village sampling not only the wide variety and style of the gardens, but tea, cakes and Pimms too. We raised just under £1500. Thank you to all who took part, whether opening your garden or helping to sell plants and refreshments.

“This is an exciting day for us to celebrate the refurbishment of the village shop. To be holding our relaunch as part of the Appleton Great Get Together Festivities is appropriate, as so many villagers volunteer their time to help to support the Shop and each other”

Jane thanked all those who helped with the shop’s refurbishment and who give their time so freely to help with its smooth running and all agreed how lucky Appleton is to have such a strong sense of community.

Appleton Shop now boasts no less than 104 volunteers- and probably a record amongst community shops!

Our Shop is Relunched!

A brand new sign and original logo heralded an exciting day for Appleton Community Shop on a sunny Saturday 17th June.

A large and happy crowd of villagers including staff and volunteers enjoyed a barbeque and tasting session of new local food lines at the shop’s opening after its recent refurbishment. The shop was officially relunched by The High Sheriff of Oxfordshire, Jane Cranston who is also Chairman of the Shop’s Directors. Braving the Heat in her official uniform Jane

- Urgently needed during the summer months- people to join the bank of volunteers willing to help out when a regular volunteer is away.
- Production of the newspaper lists for the paperboys and girls - Once a week or fortnightly, in the shop office to assist with the computer work to produce the lists. If you would like to know more about volunteering, please contact the shop (863191)

IMPROVING ACCESS TO OXFORDSHIRE'S COUNTRYSIDE AND GREEN SPACES

Oxfordshire has an excellent network of local rights of way and accessible green spaces in its countryside, rural communities and in urban areas. The county is also criss-crossed by longer trails such as the Thames Path and the Ridgeway and by regional routes such as the Oxfordshire Way.

Footpaths and bridleways provide opportunities for people to access green spaces for relaxation, exercise and enjoyment. Walking or cycling has many health benefits and brings people closer to the natural world, while better links along rights of way within and between communities offer scope for reducing car use. Local voluntary groups are often involved with looking after local paths and bridleways; now the summer is on its way, what better time to get outside and get involved with local access projects, or just enjoy exploring our beautiful county?

But could we make better use of rights of way in Oxfordshire? Some routes have challenging surfaces, stiles or gates and many lack information and signage about points of interest and circular routes. The County Council is responsible for managing the rights of way network, doing so by working with farmers and local communities. But OCC has limited funding and time to carry out improvements; this is where Trust for Oxfordshire's Environment (TOE2) and volunteers can help.

TOE2 works in partnership with OCC, supporting communities to ensure better rights of way networks that are more accessible and easier to use, providing valuable links between and within settlements. TOE2 is keen to support more local voluntary groups to help maintain and improve Oxfordshire's Rights of Way Network, building on the excellent work of existing groups such as the South Chilterns Path Maintenance Volunteers, the Cotswold Voluntary Wardens, and the Ramblers Path Works Volunteers. Working alongside Parish Councils and OCC such groups help ensure that local people can enjoy better connected paths and bridleways to access local green spaces.

TOE2 welcomes funding applications from non-profit making organisations and groups including:

- Parish Councils
- Local charities
- Environmental charities and groups
- Other local voluntary groups

The county's most pressing social problems are being addressed by Oxfordshire Community Foundation (OCF), which is offering funding to local charities and community groups from four new grants programmes. The foundation's re-vamped grant-making strategy makes it easier for charitable organisations to access the funding they need, and helps them to reach multiple funders with a single application.

OCF hopes to make it quicker and easier for small groups to access modest funds, whilst also providing the possibility of more significant investment for groups willing to share comprehensive budgets and business plans. There are now four distinct OCF grants programmes, offering different amounts of funding and requiring different degrees of effort by applicants, according to the scale and ambition of the charitable work that needs funding.

If you are interested in finding out more, including details of the four grants programmes, please see our web site at:
