Thoughts from the PCC

Autumn is particularly visible in a rural community. As August moves into September and September into October we have a vivid reminder of all that we have to give thanks for on display around us – the harvest is in, the leaves are changing colour and the nights are drawing in. The rumble of tractors up and down Oaksmere is a particular source of joy and thanksgiving for the 4-year old inside many of us.

September brings a new school year, and with it a mix of emotions for children and parents alike - particularly those facing first days or new surroundings. Thanks go to Appleton Primary School's Mrs Ballard for single-handedly reducing all foundation-stage parents to a blubbering mess on day one with a gut-punchingly lovely poem, but then for supplying the tissues and chocolates to pick up the pieces!

We're also coming into a time of change for our congregation at St Laurence, with the departure of Rev'd Ken in the new year and preparations underway to appoint a successor. Whilst regretting our loss, the PCC respects Ken's personal position and his wish to leave. We'll be welcoming a number of visiting clergy during the coming interregnum and it was perhaps fitting that, in a recent sermon, one reflected on the theme of change in the Christian life. More information will be published on the church website and in the Advertiser as soon as firm arrangements are in place. In the meantime please continue to contact Rev'd Ken with any enquires about weddings, baptisms or funerals etc.

As the harvest and the school year show, change can be in parts both welcome and unsettling. However, one thing our congregation takes great comfort from is that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever" and we "give thanks to the God of heaven [for] His love endures forever". The gospel of Jesus Christ is good news for all and the congregation at St Laurence continues to be welcoming to everybody. As we meet week by week it's a chance to celebrate God's blessings to us. The harvest is an annual reminder that He delights in giving them and shows no sign of stopping.

On the theme of celebrating blessings, the Harvest Supper on Friday 4 October is a wonderful event for the whole community to do just that! Hosted in the Barn at South Lawn, tickets are on sale in the Village Shop.

Gardening Club

The Appleton Village Show took place on 1st September. The 37 individual competitors were slightly down on last year but the number of entries into the different classes was about the same. The weather this year with hot dry spells and sudden downpours affected the number of entries in the vegetable and fruit classes but the flower classes did much better this year than last. The cookery and photography classes were well supported as well as the art & handicraft and flower arranging classes. The winner this year of the President's Cup was Jack Gordon. Many thanks to all the helpers, competitors and people from the village who came along to support the Show, but particularly to Jane Cranston who presented the awards and conducted the auction at the end. The money raised at the auction helps to cover the costs of running the show. The show is a village event so why not think about entering next year?

The winter lecture series will start on Wednesday 9th October at 7.30 in Appleton School Hall. The speaker will be Martin Green on The Wonders of Westonbirt. Martin is a national Arboretum Volunteer and he will give an illustrated talk on the 2,500 species of tree in the Arboretum. Those members who have yet to join for the current year can do so at the meeting (membership is still very good value at £5 per year). We also welcome visitors to the lectures for a £2 charge although with the annual subscription so low why not join for the year? Why not come along and see what the club is all about?

Fiona, a new Volunteer's story

'Having joined the shop as a volunteer in March 2019, I'm now six months in and used to my routine shift of 1-3pm on a Monday.

I grew up in Appleton, left home at 19 (way back in 1992) and have recently returned.

Volunteering at the shop fits in easily alongside my part-time job and it's actually great to be able to volunteer in the village, because it means there is no need for travel time; I can walk out of the front door and be at my post within five minutes!

The Monday early-afternoon shift is usually steady for the first hour, mopping up the tail end of lunchtime trade, and then fairly quiet between 2-3pm, but there are routine tasks to do, the main one being the clearing of the empty hot pie cabinet.

Towards the end of the shift people start to come into the shop prior to school-gates' pick up, and my successor at the counter has a role like a Christmas Elf, counting out sweets for the children coming out of school.

Volunteering at the shop is a great way to meet people and keep in touch with what's happening in the village, and the team are warm and supportive.'

Fiona
Shop Volunteer

Customer Feedback is good to hear!

A past volunteer and regular customer comments:

'So grateful the shop is here, so many villages don't have one.'

Robert, a current volunteer said:
*'It always amazes me that the shop has what I want!
The large selection of quality wines and beers is outstanding for a small shop.'*

And At the end of the Month-
Look out for Pumpkins and Ghoulish Sweets in time for Halloween!

Thinking of Getting Involved?

Why not come along and spend a couple of hours with one of the shop volunteers to see where you could help?

Volunteers needed to help serve behind the counter

If you would like a bit of top-up training or just a chance for some extra practice do feel free to 'shadow' experienced till users on any shift. Claire or Angela can help suggest who to shadow, then just add your name to the weekly rota sheet on the side of the drinks chiller and come along.

Just a couple of extra training shifts can really make a difference to your confidence in using the till.

If you would like to know more about volunteering, please contact the shop (863191) or email: appletonshop@gmail.com

Message from Flood Group

It seems strange to be thinking of floods during such a warm September but flash floods can quickly result from sudden downpours after prolonged dry spells. As many are aware the Appleton flood Group is a group of villagers who volunteers to help out as wardens in an emergency. A contact list is provided on the village notice board together with a description of the pump equipment and protective sacs available to all villagers if and when needed.

Members also advise on preventative measures and a small group recently volunteered to clear the silt and embedded vegetation on either side of the bridge over Osse Brook at Oaksmere. The silt has built up over time through natural causes but had reached a stage where further build up and subsequent growth of vegetation in the silt was beginning to form a potential blockage in the culverts under the bridge. Flooding has been a problem by the bridge in the past but following the 2007 floods was largely solved by the building of a second culvert to help divert the flow. However build up of silt still needs keeping under control, the recent clearance work was a one off and we hope to form a proper maintenance plan for this area.

We would also like to remind all villagers whose property adjoins the brook of their responsibilities:

Under common law a property or land owner is the riparian owner of any watercourse within or adjacent to that property or land and it is important to maintain a proper flow of water to help land drainage and prevent the risk of flooding. Please do not dispose of garden rubbish or domestic waste in the brook. It is helpful if villagers can report any problems such as tree fall or blockages to the Parish Council.

Besselsleigh Wood Group WOODFEST 2019

A happy time was had by all who ventured down to the woods to join in the 2019 WoodFest.

On a perfect September Sunday around 200 people enjoyed the best that the Woods (and the BWG) could offer.

The Wilderness Pioneers, the Forest School, The Story Tellers, the BBQ chefs, Alex White, Richard Snow, the Tea & Cake tent and the managing the Churchyard for Wildlife group all contributed to an interesting, fun and informative day. Everyone learnt more about our woodland and how to engage with traditional techniques interspersed with the scoffing of burgers and cakes.

Especial thanks to all those who prepared the site, baked cakes, put up the marquee, cooked the BBQ, ran the tea tent, organised the event and otherwise contributed to a thoroughly enjoyable and successful day.

If anyone would like to volunteer to help with the working parties which are needed from time to time to help with the modest tree planting programme, the coppicing and path clearing that is needed please contact John Page on 864808 or jsbpage27@gmail.com

A Cupboard

Many years ago we bought a Livery Cupboard. It was a simple oak cupboard with a shelf and drawers that was just the thing for a space in our home – to store glasses and bottles.

But – the name “livery” was a puzzle. The only livery I knew of was horse livery. And I couldn’t see our cupboard holding much in the way of horse kit. A mystery until I read a book – “Warm and Snug” – a history of beds and sleeping. Winter nights were very long before the advent of artificial light; a midwinter night was more than 16 hours long.

In midwinter people would often sleep twice – about eight hours at a time; they would wake up about midnight. This is now called “poly-phasic” sleeping.

What to do at midnight? If the moon was good or a candle to hand then some work could be done; intimate relationships could recur - as could hunger.

Hunger – this was the motive for the livery cupboard. It held food and drink to appease rumbling midnight stomachs.

We are, genetically, hunter-gathers and have lived for 100,000 years or more with cycles of natural light and darkness only. The recent arrival of artificial light has had a profound effect on our ancient lives – and little of that is understood.
